GREAT PROSPERITY COMING.

If the United States keeps out of the European war, this country will be visited by the greatest wave of prosperity in its history. This boom will start sweeping over the nation about July 1, and will continue through 1916. Factories will be overwhelmed with orders, merchants will be deluged with business and there will be plenty of work for every able-bodied man.

Such was the prediction made in an interview by Frank J. Semple, of St. Louis, vice-president of the Simon's Hardware Company. He said the United States is becoming the "safe deposit vault" of the world. One New York bank, he said reports an

W. T. FRENZ DIED HERE TUESDAY.

W. T. (Billie) Frenz died at the residence of his brother, P. J. Frenz, in this city, Tuesday afternoon at 5:40, after a year's illness of cancer of the throat and mouth. Three operations were performed in the last few months, the last one about three months ago by Mayo Bros., at Rochester, Minn., in the hopes of curing the malady, but to no avail.

Mr. Frenz was 63 years, 9 months and 26 days old at the time of his death. He was born in St. Louis, Mo., and came to Hickman with his parents in 1861 where his father, Jacob Frenz, was in the grocery business on the corner where W. A. Dodds

BRITISH WARSHIP AGAMEMNON SUNK.

The latest addition to British naval losses is the battleship Agamemnon, one of the most recent and largest of the class of pre-dreadnoughts, which was sunk at the Dardanelles in the latter part of May, possibly by the German submarine that sank the British battleships Majestic and Triumph on May 26 and 27, respectively. All of the officers and crew of the Agamemnon were saved.

The Agamemnon is the largest warship, except the Audacious, which has as yet been lost by either side. She was launched in June 1906, and displaced 16,500 tons. She had a speed of 18.9

STONE-LEDFORD WEDDING TUESDAY NIGHT.

A wedding of more than passing local interest and which came in the nature of a surprise to their many friends, was that of Miss Clois Ledford and Roscoe Stone, which occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Tuesday night at eight o'clock.

The bride is the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Ledford, and deservedly popular and a leader of the society in which she moved and will be a helpmate to the man of her choice in every sense of the word.

The groom is a graduate of a Chicago College of Pharmacy, and with his brother, Dr. E. R. Stone, of Portageville, Mo., came here something like two years ago and purchased the Hickman Drug Co., which has been operated by Roscoe since that time. Immediately upon locating here, he became prominently identified with the business and social interests of the city, and by industry, and perseverance has made customers and friends who are legion.

The beautiful ceremony was said by Rev. R. M. Walker, pastor of the First Methodist church, in the presence of only the immediate family of the bride, after which the happy couple were driven to Fulton where they left for a wedding trip to Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Louis and the home of the groom's parents in Portageville, Mo.

The wedding of this popular couple had been expected for some time, but their many friends had been unable to learn the exact date.

The Courier joins their many friends in wishing them the maximum of joys and pleasures and many years of happiness together.

new brick building now stands. The son was associated with his father in this business until the death of the latter.

While he always called Hickman his home, Mr. Frenz had lived in other places at various times in his life, at one time being in the clothing and dry goods business at Milan, Tenn., with Jake Plant. For about 3 years he traveled for a Cincinnati commission house, and later with the Winchester Arms Co. In later years he lived on his farm in Arkansas in the winter, spending his summers in Hickman.

He was not a member of any church, but was raised in the Lutheran church, and throughout his life showed the influence and Christian training of devout parents. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias. He is survived by two brothers and two sisters: P. J. Frenz and Miss Tillie Frenz, of Hickman, Henry W. Frenz, of Clarendon, Ark., and Mrs. A. J. Claywell, of Brickley, Ark. Mr. Frenz had never married.

Funeral services were held at the home of his brother yesterday afternoon by Rev. R. M. Walker, of the First Methodist church, and the remains interred at the city cemetery.

It is presumed that the loss of the Agamemnon was due to the activities of German submarines, at least one of which, the U-51, made the entire voyage from the German North Sea ports to the Dardanelles via Gibraltar. To her was due the sinking of the British battleships Triumph, on May 26, and Majestic on May 27. The loss of these two battleships was the latest naval news of importance from that theater of war.
